The Joy of Life.

In the rush and struggle of business and amid the anxieties and cares of household life, thousands of men and women are taking life too seriously. There is need of hard work if success is to be achieved in any direction. Sorrow and perplexity are part of earth's discipline and must be expected; but above and beyond all these, if triumph is to be crown laudable efforts, if real victory is to be gained, there must be positive joy in living.

It is not alone a duty to be courageous and bravely meet the difficulties that confront us; it is no less important that we go into battle with a song on our lips and our hearts attuned to the hopefulness of the outlook, whatever may happen to us. When the news came to Samuel Adams of the firing at Lexington he exclaimed, "Thank God for this glorious morning!" The attack on the British troops meant that Adams himself was an outcast and a rebel, it meant certain death if he was captured, and yet he rejoiced because he knew that it meant also that kingly tyranny was to be opposed by the strong arms and manly hearts of men determined that their rights should be respected. So, amid all the disaster that threatened him, Adams could be glad.

It is that larger vision of life and what it means that is needed if we are to successfully bear its ills.

Thomas B. Reed has been called frivolous by some people who meet him, simply because he has an indomitable fund of humor that sees the bright side and joyous things of life, as well as a mind large enough to handle great problems of state.

Newell Dwight Hillis, speaking along this line of successfully combating life's ills and enduring its hard places, says in the Ladies Home Journal:

"Next to the duty of self-denial comes the duty of delight. What ripeness is to an orange, what song is to the lark, what culture and refinement are to the intellect, that happiness is to the soul. As vulgarity and ignorance betoken a neglected mind, so unhappiness and misery proclaim the neglected heart. The normal nature will keep strong and fresh the chords that vibrate joy. Depression and worry take the nerve out of a man's arm, take the keen edge from his mind, rob life of its victory. For unhappiness wins no battles, gloom invents no tool, wretchedness writes no drama. Earth's great achievements represent those whose hearts sang over the tasks. To meet storm with calm, defeat with faith, ingratitude with charity, is not an easy thing. Nothing requires so much wisdom, practice and skill as learning how to live habitually above the distemperatures of life."

CRISIS IN THE TRANSVAAL.

Dutch Government Is Uneasy Over Statement of Wrecks Sent Home by Britons.
NEW YORK, April 27.—The Journal today prints the following, dated Cape Town, April 26: "There is renewed uneasiness over the situation in the Transvaal. President Kruger's general-in-chief, Chabert, is inspecting the frontier and selecting places suitable for intrenchments. More rigid inspection of military has been ordered."

Kruger, as he intimated a month ago, evidently is expecting hostilities with England. The Dutchmen are uneasy over the result of the petition to Joseph Chamberlain, England's colonial minister, signed by 21,000 English residents in the Transvaal and setting forth their grievances. Chamberlain's action, it is believed, will mark a crisis in English-Dutch relations. The British army here is being steadily augmented.

Mulford Is Made Colonel.
LINCOLN, April 27.—The governor received the following cablegram from Lieutenant Colonel Colton:
"MANILA, April 26.—To Poynter, Lincoln, Neb.: Detached from regiment. In charge of Philippine customs. Unable to accept. Appointment appreciated. Regiment probably permanently relieved from firing line."

On receipt of this message the governor designated Major Mulford as the successor of Stotsenberg as colonel of the regiment.

Another Shipload of Soldier Dead.
NEW YORK, April 27.—Another shipload of bodies of American soldiers who were killed or died in the Cuban and Porto Rican campaigns were brought into this harbor last evening by the transport Crook, the vessel which brought a former and similarly sad consignment. This time 356 coffins are piled in rows upon the vessel's decks. Ninety-eight of these bodies were dug up in Porto Rico, 12 at Guantanamo and 246 at Santiago. They have been identified as far as possible.

Coghlan Is Reprimanded.
WASHINGTON, April 27.—The case of Captain Coghlan may be considered as finally closed. During the day the navy department administered to Captain Coghlan the reprimand which had been determined upon yesterday, as stated in these dispatches. This was in the form of a letter from Secretary Long to that officer. It is stated at the department that the letter will not be made public before the officer has received it, and, probably not then.

STRUCK BY A CYCLONE.

Boone County, Neb., Is Hit by a Twister.

SEVERAL PERSONS ARE INJURED

People in St. Edward Take to Cyclone Caves and Escape with Their Lives—Houses Blown Down and Their Contents Scattered Over the Country—Storm Barely Misses the Town.

ST. EDWARD, Neb., April 27.—Narrowly missed by a furious cyclone which swept the country near here about 8 o'clock last night, the people of St. Edward were treated to the sight of the funnel-shaped cloud and its antics from a distance too close to be comfortable. Damage that is estimated to amount to about $25,000 was done, but no loss of life has been so far reported.

Appearing in the southwest, the cloud looked like a roll of smoke. Rising and falling, twisting and rolling, it moved to the northwest, carrying everything in its path, including live stock, sheds and small houses, which were smashed and torn in the storm's fury. It disappeared in the northwest and sped over into Platte county, where the sparsely-populated section may have been severely damaged.

The cloud seemed to strike first at A. J. McKelvey's place, where it blew down the buildings and demolished the outlying sheds. Forty head of cattle were carried a distance of at least 40 rods by the blast.

One mile north of St. Edward houses were blown to pieces and fences carried away. E. C. Russell and his family escaped by seeking shelter in the cyclone cave. They have lost everything.

W. F. McCutcheon's house was torn to pieces and Mrs. McCutcheon was quite severely injured by flying timbers. L. Rogers' dwelling, one-half mile east of town, was demolished.

Northeast of the city the whirling wind was terrific. Two miles out James Cummings is without a home, and all his personal and household effects were swept along after the destructive cloud. The resident of Jap Green, three miles north, was lifted from his foundation and turned around. A cow was picked up there, carried half a mile and set down, but little worse for her trip.

Several other buildings were blown away, and the full extent of the demolition cannot be ascertained.

Very meagre reports are coming in from the country, but the storm looked as though it would do damage over near Newman Grove or Lindsay.

Miners Win a Decided Victory.

OTTUMWA, Ia., April 27.—After being in session all day the state committee of the miners and operators of the central field agreed last night and reported to the convention a long set of resolutions which the joint conference adopted. The agreement is a decided victory for the miners, they securing all they demanded, an eight-hour day with nine hours' pay which means $1.89 per day for company hands and drivers. The agreement is in effect May 1 and continues until April 1, 1900. The price for mining was fixed at 75 cents per ton for screened coal and 50 cents for mine run.

Cudahys to Build at Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, April 27.—Deeds were filed here transferring to the Kansas City Stock Yards company 15 acres of land on the Kaw river bottom adjoining Swift & Company's packing plant. The property transferred includes the ruins of the big Kingman packing plant. The Times states that the property has been purchased for the Cudahy Packing company, and that the Cudahys will at once begin the erection of a big packing plant.

Nonunion Miners Forced to Retire.
WARDNER, Ida., April 27.—After an all-night session, the striking miners this morning went in a body to the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mines and stopped the nonunion men from entering the mines. At first persuasion was used, but finally revolvers were drawn and the nonunion men were forced to retire. Armed men are on guard both at the Bunker Hill mines and at the mill. About 80 men are at work.

Fatal Duel with Pitchforks.
O'FALLON, Ill., April 27.—Conrad Schaefer, aged 50 years, and Benjamin Love, aged 18, both employed on the farm of Henry Bertram, near here, fought a duel with pitchforks last evening and Schaefer was killed. The two had a dispute while loading hay and fought till Schaefer fell from a terrific blow on the head. He lived but a few hours. Love cannot be found.

Double Tragedy in Arkansas.
TEXARKANA, April 27.—News reached here from Boggy, Ark., that Miss Alice Archer was shot and killed yesterday by Antonio Arnaldo, a Mexican, who then shot himself to death. Arnaldo was a tenant on the Archer farm and had been ordered away because of his overtures to Miss Archer.

Hutchins Named to Succeed Schaefer.
DES MOINES, April 27.—The committee of regents of the University of Iowa met yesterday and determined on Prof. Harry P. Hutchins as president of the institution to succeed President Charles E. Schaefer, deceased. Prof. Hutchins is now dean of the law department of Michigan university.

New Governor of Guam Sails.

NEW YORK, April 27.—The United States auxiliary cruiser Yosemite sailed today for Guam. It has on board Captain Richard Leary, who is to be governor of the island of Guam. The Yosemite is to remain at the island for the use of the governor.

River Falls at Sioux City.
SIoux CITY, April 27.—The decline in the Missouri continues. Advices from Fort Benton and Glendive, Mon., are that everything like a flood has disappeared.

Emancipation Day.
If there is one day more memorable than another to the colored people of this country it is May 2—the anniversary of the day in 1863 when Abraham Lincoln gave notice that the shackles of slavery were to be lifted from the 4,000,000 bondmen. It is fitting that they and their descendants should have an annual rejoicing on the day that made them free. The Colored Lime Kiln Jubilee club of Norfolk, alive to the appropriateness of the occasion, will next Tuesday evening, at Marquardt's hall, give a program of much interest.

An address will be given by Mayor Simpson. George Washington Clark, a colored orator from Georgia, who has recently returned from Cuba, will also speak.

The speaking will be interspersed with music by Prof. Rouse and singing by members of the jubilee club.

The exercises will be closed by a genuine old fashioned Virginia cake walk participated in by the colored folks. Prizes will be offered for the best looking and the ugliest man. The judges will be Charles J. Carter, Geo. W. Box, W. O. Hall and W. N. Huse.

Refreshments will be served and dancing will be enjoyed. The admittance will be 25 cents. All are cordially invited to turn out and help commemorate the anniversary of the day that made American manhood forever regardless of race, color or previous condition of servitude.

National Baptist Societies Anniversaries, Portland, Ore., June 2-5, 1899—One fare plus $2 for round trip via Union Pacific. For dates on which tickets will be sold, limits and full information, call on F. W. JENSEN, Agent.

Happy Thoughts.

To please, attract and give people something to talk about, is an art in writing a prosaic advertisement. Hood of Sarsaparilla fame, is the originator in an extensive sense of the idea using proverbs and wise saws as a prefix to a pleasant introduction of the well known virtues of America's greatest medicine. These quaint quotations often fit the news of the day with startling directness and the moral is easily drawn, with natural good to Hood's Sarsaparilla.

PRESIDENT TO VISIT RALEIGH.

Captain Coghlan Will Be In Command When Visit to the Cruiser Is Made.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Captain Coghlan will be in command of the Raleigh when President McKinley pays his visit of state to the cruiser at Philadelphia next Friday. It has been determined that prior to the ceremonial visit, if at all, no change shall be made in the command as a result of the utterances of Captain Coghlan. The president takes the ground that it would be an unkind and unwarranted reflection on the officers and crew of the ship to abstain from paying the visit which has been arranged for and occupies a prominent place on the program.

As to the future course of the navy department with respect to Captain Coghlan, it is believed that the administration of censure in the shape of a letter from Secretary Long will suffice to meet the needs of the case, particularly as he is to be almost immediately relieved of his command on account of the placing of the Raleigh out of commission while undergoing extensive repairs.
